

The Way Home:

A Community Conversation

A workshop with Dr. Shakti Butler, producer of the film,
"The Way Home"

Sponsored by:
The King County Civil Rights Commission

April 13, 2005

Langston Hughes Performing Arts Center
104 17th Ave S., Seattle, WA

This location is accessible and reasonable accommodations provided on request

Check in begins at 8:30 a.m.;
Workshop begins at 9:00 a.m. and ends at 5:00 p.m.

This full day workshop will include a showing of the film and focused exploration that invites participants to constructively face internalized oppression through the lens of race. This workshop is free to members of community organizations that address issues of oppression due to race, gender, class, and sexual orientation.

Registration is limited to 100 people and pre-registration is required.

Lunch will not be provided. For more information, call 206-296-8610.

Dr. Shakti Butler is an African-American woman of biracial West Indian and Russian-Jewish heritage, whose work as a creative and visionary bridge builder has challenged and inspired learning for over twenty-one years. As the Executive Director of World Trust, Dr. Butler initiated "Heart-to-Heart Conversations", a national program of public dialogue that speaks to critical social issues of race, gender, class, and sexual orientation.

